LOVE'S TRIUMPH.

ANONYMOUS.

Mattie had a very fiery temper, but that was her worst fault. When she married John Eldon, people said: "She'll make his life a warm business for him."

But Mattie thought differently. "I'll show them what a triumph love will work. I'll teach them I'm not the vixen I seem."

And so she married him. The wedding was a very pleasant affair—something to look back to as long as they lived.

The honeymoon was rich with the pleasures of a new-married life to the humble pair, but the time soon came when the bride must leave the old roof tree for the untold realities of a home of her own.

This was the first trial—the trial of leaving home and mother; but it was fleeting, for in the excitement of "setting up" housekeeping in the white cottage on Squire Black's farm, the little sorrow was at once drowned.

It was very funny—John laughed and Mattie laughed, when just they two sat down to the little new table, and ate the viands prepared by Mattie's own hands.

Everything was new and strangely sweet. Everything went on nicely, and Mattie was triumphant. But all things earthly must change.

The weather grew warm, the kitchen hot, and one of the hottest days of the season Mattie had the headache, and supper must be ready at five o'clock.

Mattie tried to get it ready, but burnt her wrist; then she burnt the bread. She looked at the clock, and saw that it had stopped; then, looking out of the door, she saw John coming. "Is supper ready?" he asked; and she muttered something—so they had their first quarrel.

"Oh, dear, the first quarrel!" How sorry it made the poor little woman. But John looked sullen, and left without kissing her.

They never talked that quarrel over, simply because each was too proud to broach the subject.

After that time quarrels came oftener and oftener.

They didn't mean to quarrel, but somehow angry words would come up. After a while a little boy came to their household, and it seemed for a month or two a good deal like the well-remembered honeymoon; but Mattie's wretched temper would fly to pieces again, and the happiness was spoiled.

"It's curious we can't get along without so much quarreling," said John, one winter day.

Mattie felt the tears in her eyes in a moment; her heart softened, and she was about to confess her failings, and ask his forgiveness, when he continued:

"It's all your hateful temper, Mattie—you know it."

That was enough, and what was meant to be a reconciliation was really another quarrel.

"Oh, dear me, it is my wretched temper—I know it!" sobbed Mattie, after John had went out; "but he needn't have said so."

"If I wasn't so blunt," said John to himself, with a sigh.

So things went from bad to worse. Little mistakes were magnified into terrible wrongs.

The neighbors had their fill of gossip about the matter, and finally, one day, when John was away, Mattie thought the thing over.

"I'm a wretched little nuisance," she said, mentally; "I don't know why I am so either; but I can't help it," she said despairingly, her lips quivering, and her eyes filling with tears. "I've a great mind to take Fred and go home, and stay there. My shame couldn't be greater than this."

She clasped the baby close in her arms, and the tears fell thick and fast on his curly head.

Her heart seemed bursting within her, but she wrapped the child in her shawl, and with quickening step she fled the place, and hurried across the snow-covered fields to her mother's.

"What's the matter, child?" asked her mother, as Mattie, pale and shivering, appeared at the door.

"Don't ask me, mother," sobbed the wretched little woman.

"You haven't left home?"

"Yes, mother, for ever."

"Don't say that to me. You shall go back this instant," said her mother, thinking of the scandal that was sure to follow such a proceeding by her miserable daughter.

"Oh, don't mother!" and Mattie looked the picture of despair.

"Tell me about it, my dear child," said the mother, melted into tenderness by that look.

Then Mattie, through her tears, told her mother all, and ended with these pitiful words:

"But, oh, mother, I love him, the father of my child—I love him, but he don't understand me. If he could but understand me! and she fell sobbing beside her mother's knee.

"Let me advise you, my child," said the mother, softly stroking her daughter's hair. "I've passed through it all, and I'll tell you a little secret. Little differences are almost certain to come up between husband and wife, and very often words are spoken that are regretted a moment afterwards. But, my child, such words can do no harm, if repented of, and confession made. If you have said anything to wound your husband's feelings, no matter what he may have said to you, go and tell him you are sorry, and I know that he will not only forgive you, but will beg you to forgive him. The hour that follows will be more delightful than the hour of your wedding. Let me tell you of a little instance of my own life."

And her mother told her of one of those little family differences that come up between so many worthy couples.

The story ended so pleasantly that it soothed the tempest in the breast of the heart-sick daughter.

After the story was done, Mattie still knelt resting her tired head on her mother's knee.

Her mother stroked the glossy hair in silence for some time, but Mattie's thoughts were busy.

Suddenly she arose, took her child in her arms, wrapped it close in a shawl, and prepared to go.

"Where are you going, my child?" asked her mother.

"To make my confession," she answered through her tears.

"Heaven bless you," said her mother.

When John came down that night a pretty scene met his view.

The fire was burning joyously on the hearth, and before it stood Mattie, dressed in a neat calico wrapper with snowy collar and cuffs, and a scarlet bow of ribbons at her throat.

Baby sat on his pallet before the fire, crowing lustily and beating the floor with a tin rattle.

Supper was on the table, and the tea was steaming on the hearth.

John was cold, but such a scene warmed him.

He went straight to the pallet and commenced to romp with the baby. Mattie went and knelt there too, determined to make her confession, but she did not know how to commence.

It was easy to think of beforehand, but when the time came, she was lost.

"There was an awkward pause—then both spoke at once."

"Mattie, I've been—"

"John, I'm sorry—"

Their eyes met, and each saw the tenderness in those of the other, and all was told in an instant. Both had made their confession.

John opened his arms, and Mattie fell sobbing on his breast, while the baby looked on in amazement.

From that hour they were the happiest of couples.

New Patents.

Dewey & Co's Scientific Press Patent Agency has received official notice of the issue of the following patents to Pacific coast inventors, for the week ending July 8th, 1879: 217,320, N. Beauregard, S. F., harrow; 217,365, T. H. Gowan, Carson, Nev., grinding car wheels; 217,396, P. H. Newbill, Los Angeles, Cal., coin roller; 217,397, F. Newhoff, S. F., electrical circuit for hotel annunciators; 217,431, S. S. Tilton, S. F., automatic sewer gate.

Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum.

DR. MINTIE'S NEPHRETICUM works wonders. In all cases of Dropsy, Bright's Disease, Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Complaints, or Retention of Urine, these troubles are entirely cured by the Nephreticum. Female Weakness, Gravel, Diabetes, pain in the back side and loin are cured when all other medicines have failed.

See what the Druggists of Portland and San Francisco say about Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum and English Dandelion Pills:

"We have sold a large amount of Dr. Mintie's medicines; the English Dandelion Pills; also the Nephreticum, and in all cases they are highly spoken of and give entire satisfaction."

John A. Childs, Druggist, Second street, Portland.

C. H. Woodward & Co., Druggists, corner First and Alder street, Portland.

Messrs. Abrams & Carroll, wholesale, Druggists, Nos. 3 and 5 Front street, San Francisco, say:

"We regard Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder Remedy before the public." All Druggists keep these medicines.

For all derangements of the Liver, Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills.

For Biliousness and Dyspepsia, Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills.

For Fever and Ague, Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills.

"Every family should keep the English Dandelion Pills on hand."

Dr. Mintie's Remedies will not "Cure all Complaints," but will, if taken according to directions, give immediate relief and perfect a cure in all troubles for which they are recommended.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The last number of the California Sioux of the Times appeared with a wood-cut of George C. Perkins, and has also a eulogy upon the wood-cut and the man. The Times remarks of Perkins that "he is a veritable human locomotive," that he "has a genial temper," "Good will towards man," etc., "are visible in every motion of his eyes and body. In fact he is a genuine social inspiration." The Times adds, in the same glib way, that "his geniality amounts to actual genius."

A Chicago telegram reports the Sioux as likely to give much trouble in Dakota. The Indians seem to have adopted, with a slight alteration, the white man's proverb, and make war when the sun is shining. Winter is their time for peace. So long as the Indians are allowed to carry arms and to own ponies, the usual Summer campaign may be expected.

Telegrams from Memphis to-day report many new cases of yellow fever. The dreaded plague seems about to bring in its train a repetition of last Summer's horrors. The Government has taken prompt action to assist the panic-stricken community.

There is no such thing as a left-handed printer. There are plenty of left-handed editors, however. We pause for a reply from the funny man who turns the joke on us.

Deacon Parkinson doesn't read the Tribune. While it says Frank Page is a third-class scrub the Deacon praises him and says he deserves reelection.

SURVEY IN THE SIERRA.

A Trip to Lake Independence and Mount Lola.

[From a special correspondent.]

Very recently we made a short trip to Lake Independence, lying about twelve miles in a direct line northwest of Truckee, and sixteen by stage. This sheet of water, three miles long by one-half mile wide, and of great depth, is situated between two rocky, steep walls, which attain an elevation of 1900 feet toward their western extremities. These great walls have been the sides which guided the ancient glacier that had its origin under the flanks of Mount Lola and Mount Stanford, and whence it moved in parallel lines to the eastward between rocky ridges, and to the westward in a similar manner.

EVIDENCES OF THIS GLACIER are conclusive in the granite rock at the head of the lake, whilst it is easy to see that the lower part of the lake has been formed by the last meraine pushed forward by the glacier, and left in its present position as the glacier retreated. The scenery about the lake is grand, and during the spring, when the snow clothes each flanking mountain, it is especially imposing. Near the head is seen rising the double-headed head of Mount Lola, 2900 feet above Independence, and 9300 feet above the sea. The trail from the west end of the lake is difficult and the ascent very steep; but it is readily reached by a trail leaving Jansen's and going over the north flanking mountain. It was over this route that a recent party took all their camping-equipment and instruments when the snow was fifteen feet deep on the average. We followed this trail and in three hours reached

THE SUMMIT OF LOLA, whence the whole panorama of the Sierra is spread before us. To the south stretches the great earth wave of the Sierra, even yet covered with snow, through which protrude great rocky masses and lines of pine and fir. Mount Stanford—the old Castle Peak—is particularly imposing. Far to the south rises grand old Pyramid Peak, fully 11,000 feet high; Tullace, overlooking Lake Tahoe; Round Top, far in the distance with a star-like signal upon it; Jolly Peak, the Silver Mountains, are seen over the haze, marking the position of Lake Tahoe. In fact, the waters of the lake are seen through these depressions in the intervening mountains. To the east looms up the mighty Mount Rose, and thence to the northeast the dark and sombre mountains of Nevada. From Pah Rah sparkles another signal—beneath the eastern flank of Pah Rah lies Pyramid Lake.

TO THE NORTH is seen the summit of Shasta, half divided to a very small peak, only caught by the practiced eye, as it lies 160 miles away, with high intervening mountains. The monarch of the Sierra, however, appears to be Lassen Butte, on account of its isolation, bold flanking shoulder, steep sides and well marked face. There, too, shines another day star, distant 97 miles from Lola. Near at hand the castellated peaks of Downville Buttes are marked objects, standing out clear and alone in their cold, rugged and scarred darkness. In looking toward them the eye rests upon part of pleasant Webber Lake, lying among trees and green hillside. Westward lies the secondary

EARTHWAVER OF THE SIERRA with dark timber-covered summits and outlines, and in some places completely shutting out Sacramento Valley. But fortunately the smoke over the valley had been scattered by a fierce southwest wind, and with the glass could be readily distinguished the dark timbered line of the Sacramento River, the hillside on the west side of the great valley, and the crest-line of the Coast Range from north Yello Bollo to Mount Diablo. Even on this distant line were the day signals of the surveyors shining, easily visible in the telescope, and sometimes visible to the naked eye. We saw south Yello Bollo signal at a distance of 141 miles, and understood that it was the reflection of sunlight from a mirror only six inches in diameter. But it would weary your readers to depict a tithe of the grand and sublime features of the Sierra Nevada and its surroundings, whilst the beauty of detail of rocky heads, deep gorges, placid lakes,

GREAT SNOW DEPOSITS, strangely comforted fire and pines, can only be drank in by a prolonged stay. The air at that elevation is remarkably clear, and we distinctly saw Venus at mid day. They say that at night the gorgeousness of the Milky Way is wonderful. It seems to us that where a mountain can be so readily and easily ascended, many more visitors would come, not only to drink in health at Jansen, but to revel in the glories of the marvelous scenery. We enjoyed the hospitality of the east survey party, encamped under the summit of the mountain where they are engaged in making

ASTRONOMICAL AND GEODETIC OBSERVATIONS.

Of course these matters are mysticisms to us, but we could not help admiring the energy that had forced them here through miles of snow, and which they kept up night and day at work. They have several fine instruments mounted on piers of rock and brick, built by their own hands; and have one wooden observatory and several canvas tents to protect their instruments. We saw the manner of showing signals by means of the heliograph, and the methods of telegraphing with it. The English claim to have used this first in Zululand, but we understand that the method was first introduced on this coast, nearly thirty years since. The officers decline to furnish the results of their work, but we obtained from them the following list of mountains upon which they are observing, together with their heights and distances. The station Lola is 9300 feet above the sea.

Name.	Miles Dis.	Altitude.
Mt. Diablo	138	3869
Pine Hill	105	2150
Mt. Helena	136	4340
Marysville Buttes	81	2030
Snow Mountain	131	7000
Yello Bollo	141	8130
Lassen Buttes	97	10660
Mt. Shasta	169	14440
Pah Rah	54	8940
Geeva Cone	57	9500
Round Top	58	10600
Webber Hill	5	8230

We understand that their longest line is from Mount Shasta to Mount Helena, 193 miles, and that observations will be made upon it this season. Mr. Editor, we have already taken up too much of your time and space; but if you have any friends who wish to recruit themselves in the quietest possible way, let us advise them to go to Jansen's on Independence Lake, or to Anderson's, on Webber Lake. Both proprietors do their best to make their guests comfortable; and the elevation, say 7100 feet for each, is just sufficient for the fullest purity.

INDEPENDENCE.

THAT STATE NEWS IN BRIEF. Tuscarora is improving. Elko is clear of tramps just now. Tuscarora streets infested by hogs. Mercury 96 in shade at Elko last Friday. Elko is overstocked with unmarried ladies.

Business men are leaving Elko for Eureka. Bishop Whitaker met with a warm reception at Paradise. The Eureka Con. has agreed to pay 30 cents per bushel for charcoal. "Sagebrush Leaves" is ready for delivery at Carson. Rumored that Eureka's "601" has reorganized.

Very hot in the Sutr6 tunnel. Miners work in ten-minute shifts. Prof. Stewart will soon commence a lecturing tour of the Eastern states. A party of six prospectors have left Tuscarora for Yankee Fork. The Austin Reveille is informed that cattle are dying of thirst at Lower Reese River.

Carson has a phonograph and will now be able to grind out gossip for the universe. A six-days walking match is talked of between a man and a horse in Virginia.

A mule kicked Tom Foster at Paradise last week and broke his collarbone. Paradise is to have a jail—"A much needed convenience," remarks the Reporter.

Eureka will tolerate hereafter no business of rubbish nor hot ashes on the streets. Senator McConnell of Winnemucca has clipped fifty tons from his sheep this season.

The Eureka walkin rings with the despairing howls of dead and dying victims of the necessary dog law.

Two men caught over 300 trout at Jack Creek, near Tuscarora one afternoon last week.

Two honest miners fired a giant powder cartridge for fun, in the town of Tuscarora, and broke many windows.

The man run over and cut to pieces by the cars at Iron Point, near Winnemucca, last week, proved to be James Duffy, an ex-Union soldier.

Seven horses of the Winnemucca and Silver City stage line were poisoned last week by some enemy of the company. Two have died.

Tuscarora has the walking mania. A match of 50 miles, for $100 a side, commenced there on Saturday evening between Smith and Elwin.

Ed. McClanahan, a bogus mining expert, pretending to represent Gashwiler, Lent and other San Francisco capitalists, is advertised by the Tuscarora Times-Review.

"Needles" is playing out an engagement of 30 days in the Elko jail. He appears in the tragedy of "A Missing Pair of Pants," or the Eccentricities of an Actor.

The editor of the Silver City Times had never seen a katydid. One was found in his office and the Times man described it as "a grasshopper over four inches long. It looked more like a bird and was sleek and fat."

Somnambulist Italian at 2 A. M. last Saturday, in night shirt, went down all the inmates of a Carson lodging house with garden hose. Cursing men, and shrieking women with garments clinging like cements. Italian dreamed he was putting out fire. They put out him.

The Eureka Leader says that the Eureka Consolidated company is seriously considering the advisability of shipping all ore produced at the mine to California for reduction. It is claimed that it can be carried to that point, and reduced at a rate that will effect a saving of $5 per ton, provided that the trustees can secure the freight rates asked.

A lively fight took place at the El Dorado saloon, in Virginia City last Saturday afternoon, between John Mahanny, City Tax Collector and proprietor of the Footlight, and T. E. Picotte, proprietor of the Lyon County Times. The fight was a desperate one for some minutes, when bystanders separated the combatants, who were covered with blood. The row grew out of the Sutr6 scandal.

Sir Astley Cooper's Vital Restorative. The great English remedy has made more cures of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lost Manhood, nocturnal emissions, impotence, incapacity for mental labor, despondency, and such diseases as are induced by youthful follies and excesses, than all other medicines combined.

It is not a stimulant nor excitant, is perfectly safe to take, is not a quick nostrum, and produces results that are wonderful. Why will you suffer? Send to A. E. Mintie, M. D., No. 11 Kearney street, San Francisco, or the Restorative, and be cured. Price, $3 per bottle. Four times the quantity, $10. Try a bottle. Dr. Mintie treats all private diseases successfully. BEAR IN MIND THAT THIS is the First, and probably will be the last time, you will ever hear the wonderful Edouard Remenyi, as he returns to Europe in the Spring.

Chicago Tribune, April 26. Chicago has been fortunate in hearing many of the most eminent violinists. After last night's concert it seems as if they had been the mere avant couriers of the great REMENYI; as if they were intended to prepare for a better appreciation of the many excellencies of the Hungarian virtuoso. The salient points of his playing are pure intonation, perfection of bowing, and above all a piano, such as probably has never been heard before. Indeed, were one to epitomize his playing, one might say that "the piano is his forte." It approached more nearly the mezza voce of the human voice than anything ever attempted by instrumentalist. The versatility of his genius could not be illustrated more forcibly than it was by the performance of Ernst's fantasia of Othello, Paganini's capriccioso, the Carnival of Venice, and REMENYI's own compositions and transcriptions. The critic's vocation is gone when REMENYI plays, for who can criticize when he plays his double stops and octaves with the most wonderful precision and rapidity? Who can compare when his 'fascinate' seems to deliver a spray of sweet tones? and who can stop to think when that ravishing pianissimo alternates with the sonorous fortissimo, and such energy, such pathos and volume of tone! It seems almost impossible to find a standard by which to measure his greatness as an artist.

The great audience displayed an enthusiasm that was a just compliment to genius, and of course double work was demanded and gracefully performed.

Mr. REMENYI was admirably supported by the other great artists of the party, and the entertainment was rounded out to a perfection seldom if ever before equalled in a concert given in Chicago.

Mrs. Thurston is an artist of great cultivation, and possesses a voice of singular sympathetic quality. Her voice is under excellent control, and her execution is finished and smooth. She sings with great ease and grace, and gained a rapturous encore after her Huguenots' aria, which she rewarded with a charming Rubenstein song.

LEGAL NOTICES.

Summons.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe, the State of Nevada sends to Arden Jones greeting: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced by the plaintiff, as defendant by Arden Jones as plaintiff in the District Court of the Second Judicial District, and for the County of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons, (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county, but within said district, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to obtain a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between plaintiff and defendant. Plaintiff alleges: That plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married at Reno, Nevada, on or about July 26th, A. D. 1878, and ever since have been and now are husband and wife; that on or about September 29th, A. D. 1878, you, the defendant, willfully deserted and abandoned plaintiff, and ever since have continued and do now continue to desert, abandon and live apart from the plaintiff against her will, wish or consent; that for said cause plaintiff is entitled to a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony between plaintiff and defendant, and now do fall and neglect to provide for the support and maintenance of life, which neglect is and was not the result of poverty on your part, which you could not have avoided by ordinary industry; that there are no children living of the issue of said marriage and no common property. Plaintiff prays to be restored to her maiden name and for costs, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county, and you are further notified, that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof, I, P. B. COMSTOCK, Clerk of said Court, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court this sixth day of December, A. D. 1878.

P. B. COMSTOCK,
Clerk of the District Court of the Second Judicial District, Nevada, in and for Washoe County.

SIMMONS' MEDICATED NABOB WHISKY

Has been sold in all the Eastern States and given universal satisfaction. It is highly recommended by the faculty for all cases of Nervousness, Weakness, Debility, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, etc. It is now introduced to the public of the Pacific Slope endorsed by the following certificates of the eminent Dr. S. Dana Hayes, State Assessor of Massachusetts, and Dr. J. C. Loring, of St. Louis, Mo., both gentlemen prominent in their profession, and which is a guarantee to all buyers of the purity and quality of the article. A case shows thousands of letters from private persons from all parts of the Union and Canada, to testify to its medicinal and tonic value, as a family remedy and tonic. Osburn & Shoemaker agents for Washoe County, will supply dealers at Jobbers' prices by the bulk or case. Also for sale by Finner & Queen, Druggists, and by John F. Myers, Druggist.

WHY STAY POOR?

Prospecting often Pays. It does not never.

The millions of the Comstock were a lucky find. Worthless looking rock is often rich in treasure. At least a simple assay made of millions of many. Other bonanzas were least suspected await the coming of some unknown man. Who he? At Virginia City, Nevada, assays for Gold and Silver are made at $1.00 per sample, by CONRAD WIEGAND, formerly the Supervising Assayer of the U. S. Mint at San Francisco.

The mail will carry ore samples to his office for one cent per ounce.

Reports which may be relied on absolutely, come back by return mail, or results are telegraphed when ordered so.

All costs, delays and risks in remitting ore samples are assumed by the sender. Dollar Remittance Tickets, which pay for all work done on our establishment.

We sell these tickets at a discount, when $5 worth or more are ordered at one time.

Small checks, for mailing ore samples also for sale at a discount price.
